Introduction

This section of the manual features the suppliers section of the website. The supplier section shows where to find all of the national suppliers and discount programs for Sellstate. This is where you will find out where to order yard signs, stationary and business cards among other things. You will also find company wide promotions in this area.

A lot of research and thought has gone into the planning, designing and implementation of Sellstate.com. Please take a moment now to go through this manual and familiarize yourself with this section of the website.

Suppliers

The suppliers area is where you may find all of the national approved suppliers and partners. This is where you will find where to order your stationary, business cards, yard signs and take advantage of corporate promotions and discounts.

Click the “suppliers” button to enter the supplier screen.

This is the supplier screen.

Notice the names of the suppliers. Clicking on the supplier name will take you to their website.

The screenshot shows the top navigation bar of the Sellstate control panel with the logo and the text "SELLSTATE control panel" and a "view menu" button. Below the navigation bar, there is a main content area. In the top left of this area, there is a small icon of a hand pointing to a link labeled "Oakley Signs & Graphics", which is circled in red. Below this link is a large advertisement for Oakley Signs & Graphics. The advertisement features the company logo, the slogan "Great Signs. Great Service. Happy Customers.™ Nationwide Since 1972", and a paragraph of text describing their services. Below the advertisement, there is another link labeled "Ace Press", also circled in red, with a sub-line of text: "For all your stationary needs! Business Cards, Letterhead, Thank You Notes and more!".

In some cases the suppliers will have a logo. Clicking on the supplier logo will take you to their website.

This screenshot is identical to the one above, showing the Sellstate control panel interface. However, in this version, the "Oakley Signs & Graphics" link in the top left is circled in red, and the entire advertisement block for Oakley Signs & Graphics is also circled in red. The "Ace Press" link and its sub-line are not circled in this version.

Below the supplier name and logo is the description of the supplier. This will tell you how this supplier will benefit you.
